

Paige Wallace

Paige Wallace is a native Texan and has focused most of her life on her passion for design. As a graduate of the University of North Texas — in Fashion Merchandising — and as a model for sixteen years, Paige has combined her “natural” personality and innate artistic skills to become a gifted artist. Her talented vision in jewelry design over the last seventeen years, matched with her knowledge of the latest fashion trends, has enabled Paige to achieve great success within her profession.

All of the designs are made with sterling silver, semi-precious stones, and other various unique beads. Boutiques and major fashion catalogs turn to Paige for her cutting-edge design work. Each piece is hand-made and is 100% guaranteed... forever!

We trust that you will find a design that is unique to you and that you will enjoy for many years.
